Texas Society of Infection Control & Prevention (TSICP)
48th Annual Conference
February 26–27, 2026
El Paso, Texas

WELCOME, INFECTION PREVENTION LEADERS

Dear Infection Preventionist,

We are delighted to invite you to attend the Texas Society of Infection Control & Prevention (TSICP) 48th Annual Conference, hosted in the vibrant border city of El Paso, Texas. Nestled where Texas, New Mexico, and Mexico meet, El Paso is known for its sun-soaked desert landscapes, rich culture, warm hospitality, and world-class cuisine, making it the perfect backdrop for this year's gathering.

This two-day event is designed for RNs, Epidemiologists, Infection Preventionists, and healthcare professionals who are dedicated to advancing patient safety and strengthening infection prevention practices across our state and beyond.

Our Education Committee has curated a robust program featuring timely topics and nationally recognized presenters. Whether you're looking to sharpen your expertise, connect with peers, or bring back practical strategies to your organization, this conference has something for you dedicated solely to infection prevention & control.
